NEWSPAPERS IN EDUCATION

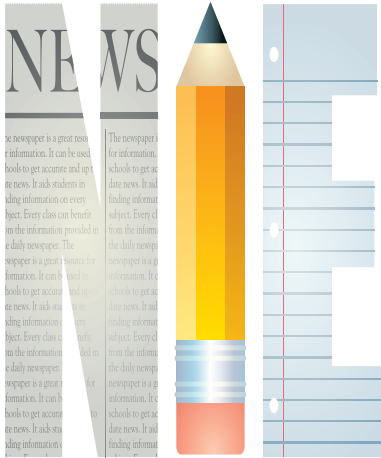

Cherokee County teachers who have participated in the Newspapers in Education program say:

"The newspaper helps my slow readers catch up."

"The students look forward to getting the newspaper and are more attentive to them than their textbooks."

"I use every section of the newspaper to teach with; there's always something to learn in there."

NOW MORE THAN EVER, OUR COMMUNITY NEEDS TO HELP SUPPORT LOCAL SCHOOLS.

A contribution of only $275 for the Cherokee Scout will provide classrooms with newspapers for the entire 2016-17 school year.

That's like giving students a new textbook every week.

Newspapers in the classroom are used to improve reading, writing and comprehension skills; increase vocabulary; provide life skills practice; and teach current events, history, civics, social studies and even math.

Only through the generous donation of funds is it possible to continue this valuable Newspapers in Education program. Will you please help?

Only $275 provides newspapers for Cherokee County classrooms for the entire school year!
